

PLATFORM OF THE Independent Home-Rule PARTY.

Adopted in Island Convention in Honolulu, H. I., June 7, 1900.

PREAMBLE.

"We believe that all governments founded on an independent basis should be assured of freedom without oppression. We believe in equal rights and freedom for all the people.

"We believe man was born with a right to be independent and that every person is equal in the eye of the law. We believe that he is endowed with all the privileges of life, liberty and the right to choose that which will contribute to his best advantage. We believe in protection against suppression. We believe that we should strive to secure equal rights for the people, by the people and of the people.

"Equal rights for the people" is the motto adopted in the platform.

"The belief of the Independent Party is that the successful candidates in the legislature of the Territory of Hawaii should strive in every way to secure the consent of the congress of the United States to make a state of the Territory of Hawaii and pledge ourselves to support all good and equal provisions that either the republic or democratic parties of the United States may see fit to enact.

"We further pledge ourselves to support that political party in the United States that will work to make Hawaii a state.

"We intend to strive in every way to make Hawaii a state. We intend to secure the consent of the congress of the United States to make a state of the Territory of Hawaii and pledge ourselves to support all good and equal provisions that either the republic or democratic parties of the United States may see fit to enact.

"Our legislature should strive to obtain homesteads for American citizens of the Territory of Hawaii out of the lands that have been taken over by the United States.

"They should also strive to get made an appropriation for the payment of just claims or damages by fire, caused by the burning of Chinatown in Honolulu and other places by the board of health in connection with the suppression of bubonic plague in 1894.

"They should further strive to encourage education, industrial pursuits, farming, road making, railroads and both foreign and local commerce that will redound to the advantage of the country.

"We stand opposed to monopolies, to any attempt at a restriction of the voting privileges of natives or citizens who think as they do, that might be attempted later. We stand opposed to the heavy taxation of the people, the restriction of the rights of the natives and to all other restriction of the rights of the people.

"We declare that labor, other than by contract, on government work either mechanical or industrial, shall not exceed eight hours a day.

"Labor on government contracts or otherwise, either direct or indirect, shall be performed by citizens of the Territory of Hawaii.

"We pledge ourselves to resist the furtherance of trusts in the Territory of Hawaii.

"We are pledged to earnest and unceasing effort to secure for all those persons imprisoned by the martial law rule of 1895 and by sentence of the military commission of 1896 such financial remuneration as is their just due."

The above is the correct PLATFORM of the INDEPENDENT HOME RULE PARTY.

Attest: JAMES K. KAUEIA, President Aloha Aina. W. M. KALEIHOA, D. KALAUOKALANI, Secretary, President Kalaialoa.

The Tomato. The tomato was known up to 1830 as a "love apple" and regarded with suspicion. It originated in Spanish South America and, being introduced into Italy from Morocco, was named "pomme del mori"—Moor's apple. The French called it "pomme d'amour."

After. Willie—Pa, did Adam and Eve kick each other when they were from out of the garden? Pa—Well, no; not just then, but they raised Cain afterward. Now go to bed.

Identified at Last. Glen Miller, a United States marshal in Utah, was sitting in his office at Salt Lake City one day when a well-dressed and intelligent looking man entered and addressed him. "I was confident that I knew the man," said Glen in relating the circumstances, "but I was not able to place him. As we conversed pleasantly it gradually became impressed upon me that he was an old Kansas acquaintance, perhaps some one I had known at the university, but he spoke so cordially and with such an assumption of his knowing me and my knowing him that I did not have the nerve to ask him who he was.

"In Salt Lake," continued the smiling marshal, "we have the same fashion of doing the square thing by a friend that used to prevail in Kansas. There is no prohibition law in Utah, and we found a place near by that was sufficient unto our purposes. After I had said something, and he something, we quickly got along to the stage where I invited him to my house for dinner, but all the time I was taxing my mind to learn his identity and watching for a chance word that would give me a clue.

"By the way," I said at last, "when did you come out?" meaning from the States, of course. "Oh, I got out last night. You see, they cut off nine months for good behavior."

"Then it broke over me. My guest was Pete Curry, a celebrated mail robber, whom I had taken to the penitentiary just three years before."—Kansas City Journal.

Her Last Drink. In Hyde Park lives a young matron who is of such a high nervous temperament that if she drinks the very smallest amount of alcoholic stimulant before going to bed the result is sleeplessness for the remainder of the night. Some nights ago a number of friends dropped in for the evening, and the husband, who, by the way, is a southerner, suggested that he make a mint julep for each of the company. The suggestion was received with delight, and the juleps were promptly taken.

In his wife's glass, however, he put only enough whisky to flavor the water, probably not more than a tea-spoonful. Of this she slipped about half. The result, however, was the same. She was troubled with insomnia all night long, and it was not until 5 o'clock in the morning that she dropped off to sleep and, as a consequence, was not called for breakfast.

At 10 o'clock she came down stairs and hearing the voices of children on the front porch stopped to listen. Her heart filled with motherly pride as she heard her elder son, a boy of 6, telling seven or eight children from the neighborhood that they must not make too much noise as his mamma was asleep. Imagine her horror, too, as the young hopeful added:

"She drinks so much whisky last night that she couldn't come down to breakfast this morning."—Kansas City Star.

Something He Couldn't Wear. A wealthy American who became a convert to Rome was very generous to Pope Leo XIII in money matters. He had done many generous things, and the pope had rewarded him with orders and medals galore. For once a year this convert made a pilgrimage to Rome, where he was kindly received by the holy father as a son and generally, until the orders were exhausted, each time was bestowed with some fresh honor. On such occasions all these brave metal pieces were attached to the rich American's breast.

"I'll soon end that," the pope remarked to a confidante who was at his side during the levee. "Next time I shall give him a snuffbox," which he did, and a beautiful jeweled box it was.

The following year the American turned up again and was granted an audience, when to the holy father's consternation the faithful son of the church appeared not only with all his medals, but with the snuffbox attached to his waistcoat.

"The next time," the pope said, with a comical sigh, "I shall present him with a marble topped table. It is the only thing I can think of that he can't tie to his waistcoat."—Chicago Times-Herald.

65,536 Versions of Jack and Jill. An English clergyman has written the history of Jack and Jill on a new and original plan. The first four pages of the book are numbered 1, the next four 2, and so on up to page 8. The stories are so arranged that any page marked 2 can be read after any numbered 1, making good sense. In the same way page 3 can be read after page 1 or page 2; page 4 will follow page 1, 2 or 3, and so on through the eight. Application of the laws of permutation shows that the book thus contains 65,536 stories of Jack and Jill.

Not an Old Acquaintance. "Do you mean to say that the horse ran away with you?" said Mr. Meek to a guest.

"Yes," answered his wife. "And wouldn't stop when you told him so?"

"Of course he wouldn't." "Well, then, I don't know what to say except that the horse wasn't acquainted with you or else he wouldn't have dared to act in that manner."—Washington Star.

A Sermon In Brief. "A man met a bull in a field. 'I'll toss you to see who stays,' said the bull. He tossed, and the man lost. The moral is that it is never safe to indulge in games of chance, especially when all the odds are against you."—Philadelphia North American.

A conscientious person should be aware of getting into a passion for every sharp word one speaks lodges in one's own heart, and such slivers hurt us worse than any one else.
